Timeless — A complete private forest estate for slow, generational living

Design Philosophy

A Private World Within the Forest

ARANYAKA is conceived not merely as a residence but as a complete private forest world, a self-contained estate hidden within dense landscape and designed for those who seek permanence, depth, and generational belonging.

Large-span architecture opens entirely to the forest, while private nature trails, wellness courts, and an estate-scale pool create a living environment that extends far beyond the built boundary. The estate belongs to the land as much as it belongs to its inhabitants.

Timeless materials, unhurried proportions, and a commitment to enduring craft define every space. ARANYAKA is designed to age gracefully, deepening in character alongside the forest that surrounds it.
